

STEADILY IMPROVING.

CHEERFULNESS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The Ball Properly Tended—What Dr. Bliss Has to Say About the Work of the Attending Physicians—When the President Will Fully Recover.

The President's condition when he awoke on Saturday morning after a sound and refreshing sleep was better, it was thought, than at any time since the shooting. The morning bulletin showed a considerable improvement in the symptoms. His head and shoulders were elevated by means of a frame to an angle of twenty-five degrees and he thoroughly enjoyed the change. The doctor, although it was a great relief, Dr. Boynton said that he watched the clock from about nine o'clock until the hands reached twenty minutes, and then he said: "Well, it is now exactly four weeks since I was shot." Dr. Hamilton's telegram to his wife has been the most ENCOURAGING AND EUPHRATIC STATEMENTS of the President's condition that has ever come from an official source. In his dispatch on Saturday he said: "We are all in the best of spirits, feeling that his recovery is almost absolutely assured." Mr. Crump, who was compelled to go home on account of being sick with the child, said that the President was fifty per cent. better than on Thursday. The day was passed without any change except a slight improvement in the fever.

Dr. Hamilton, who was present all day, returned to New York Saturday night. Dr. Agnew will remain here for several days. Yesterday the President had another good day, and in consequence of this the President's condition was very quiet about the White House. There is no more peaceful scene than the surroundings of the White House on a pleasant Sabbath day, and yesterday was one of those days. The calm and cheerful quiet of the President's condition was a contrast to that presented last Sunday, when a constant stream of people and carriages hurried through the gates. Anxiety was then depicted on every face, and the President's condition was a source of great concern.

ONE OF GREAT FORTUNE.

The week has passed, and the doctors speak perhaps more hopefully of the President's prospects than they ever did before. His condition yesterday was good, no more judging from the symptoms, but from his appearance, his appetite, and the signs of returning strength. The wound is improving so satisfactorily that the doctors think no further danger from that cause need be apprehended. The most serious danger now is the possibility of a relapse, but the doctors are confident that the President's convalescence will be rapid. Yesterday he awoke after a good night's rest, and with such a healthy appearance as to lead the doctors to expect that the President's recovery will be rapid. The President's condition was a source of great concern, and the doctors were anxious to see him. The President's condition was a source of great concern, and the doctors were anxious to see him. AMINATE SOLID FOOD.

It was given some baked potatoes and lamb chops, beside the kumies, beef-tea, and the liquid which he has been taking. He passed a very comfortable morning, and the doctors were confident that the President's recovery will be rapid. TWO BIG STEAMERS.

Destroyed by Fire While Lying at the Wharf in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 31.—A fire at seven o'clock this morning, having started from a lamp-keeper of the steamer Oceola, destroyed the steamer, together with the Oceola and the Idaho, both of which were lying at the wharf. The Oceola was a large steamer, and the Idaho was a smaller one. The fire was caused by a lamp-keeper who was smoking a pipe. The fire spread rapidly, and the two steamers were completely destroyed. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Sitting Bull and the Iron Horse.

ST. PAUL, MINN., July 31.—A Blinnard (Jax) special to the Pioneer Press says that the steamer Sheridan, with Sitting Bull on board, arrived at Blinnard to-day, and that the steamer was to be used to transport the Indians to the reservation. The steamer was a large one, and was built for the purpose of carrying a large number of passengers. The Indians were to be taken to the reservation in the morning.

Our Horses in Canada.

HOME AFTER NINETEEN YEARS.

The Return of a Son Who It Was Supposed Had Died in the War.

PLAINFIELD, July 31.—Mr. Zebbin Compton and his wife, of this city, at noon yesterday were astonished by the entrance into the house of a person whom they quickly recognized as their son, who was supposed to have died in the war. The son, who was named John Compton, had been missing for nineteen years, and when they believed to be dead. At the breaking out of the war he joined the army, and after twenty-one years of absence he had returned home.

ATTACHED TO THE SURVIVAL STAFF, in June, 1862, his parents learned, through a letter from him, that he was on board a ship taking some sick soldiers to New Orleans. This was the last heard from him until he returned home. He had been in the army for nineteen years, and he had been in the hospital for a long time. He had been in the hospital for a long time, and he had been in the hospital for a long time. He had been in the hospital for a long time, and he had been in the hospital for a long time.

POUNDED TO DEATH.

A HORRIBLE MIDNIGHT MURDER.

Peter Tyrrell Dies from the Results of a Drunken Brawl with Robert Orr in a Low Groggery—The Coroner's Inquest—Orr Sent to Jail.

Francis Gallagher's grocery store on Twenty-first street, between I and M north-west, was early yesterday morning the scene of a brutal and fatal encounter between two white laborers, Robert Orr and Peter Tyrrell, both of whom are in the employ of Thomas Steel, contractor. There were only four witnesses to the affair, and from what could be learned in regard to it it appears that the two men had been drinking heavily, and that they had been drinking heavily. They had been drinking heavily, and they had been drinking heavily. They had been drinking heavily, and they had been drinking heavily.

FIREMAN FLEET'S SUICIDE.

The Probable Reasons for the Act—The Girl in the Case Also Missing.

On Saturday morning last, about eight o'clock, a young colored man named James H. Fleet, a member of Truck Company B of the fire department, committed suicide by taking poison, at the residence of his mother, No. 1407 T street. The taking of the fatal dose was the third attempt that Fleet had made to kill himself. About four months ago he stabbed himself in the side with a knife, and on the 4th of July last he attempted to sever an artery in his arm. It is stated that for the past year Fleet had been keeping company with a girl by the name of Ford, who was a member of the same fire company.
